Meharry Medical, Dental and Pharmaceutical Colleges and Nurse Training School

WALDEN UNIVERSITY

This was the first institution established in the Southern States for the education of colored Physicians, Dentists, Pharmacists and Nurses.

During the 37 years of its history there have been 1214 graduates in medicine, 235 in Dentistry, 198 in Pharmacy and 40 in Nurse Training, making a total number of graduates, 1687. These constitute about one-half of the regularly educated members of these professions now in actual practice in the Southern States.

The buildings and grounds are valued at $100,000. Meharry Medical College ranks A in the classification of American Medical Colleges and is a member of the Association of American Medical Colleges." The Dental College belongs to the "National Association of Dental Faculties" and the Pharmaceutical to the "American Conference of Pharmaceutical Faculties." The total enrollment for the past session was 522.

The George W. Hubbard Hospital contains 57 rooms and can accomodate from 75 to 100 patients and furnishes good clinical advantages for the students.
